 David Wong	David Wong began learning Kung Fu in 1970 with Master Henry Gibson, which was then followed by a period of training in Budokan and Chidokan Karate. From 1978 to 1999 he studied Traditional Yang Style Tai Chi Chuan and Northern Shaolin Kung Fu under Master Khoo Kok Hua of Malaysia and became his assistant instructor. In 1994 David started his own Tai Chi class teaching the 24 Forms Simplified Tai Chi Chuan. From those beginnings David has developed a school which now provides a comprehensive range of programmes to cater for all interests and needs. The "Tai Chi for All" classes teach the standardized contemporary Yang Style Tai Chi Chuan routines and also Health Qigong. For the more advanced level students, Yang Style Tai Chi Weapon Forms - Fan, Sword, Short Staff and the Competition Routines are also available. Traditional Yang Style Tai Chi Chuan is also available. David currently teaches the 103 Movement Long Form of Grand Master Yang Zhenduo (4th generation) and is a member of the International Yang Family Tai Chi Chuan Association. In addition to teaching, David is active in promoting Tai Chi to the community. He is invited regularly to perform in public with his students and to meet these demands, he has established a special Cultural Performance Group. David also provides free Tai Chi instruction to Chinese community groups. His contribution to the wider community includes being one of the co-founders of the World Tai Chi & Qigong Day event and currently serves as the Secretary of WTCQD in Auckland.
